

Soviet Charge Exposed as Lie by U. S.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States promised to expose as a lie Soviet charges that a U.S. reconnaissance plane was on a spy mission when it was shot down by a Soviet fighter July 1.

U.S. chief delegate Henry Cabot Lodge served notice Friday night that he would have a "great deal" to say when the United Nations Security Council meets again Monday over the shooting incident, which he described as "criminal and preposterous."

Lodge blasted Soviet charges as a "sinister fabrication" at a press conference Monday afternoon. He said the Council session highlighted by the presence of the wives of the plane's crew.

Lodge spoke after Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov told the 11-nation Council the United States had sent the plane into Soviet air space "to detect the system of radar stations and other military objectives" in the Soviet Union.

Kuznetsov demanded in a resolution that the Council condemn "these continuing provocative actions" by the U.S. Air Force, label them "aggressive acts," and "take immediate steps to put an end to such actions." The resolution was not expected to pass.

Lodge declared that at no time during the flight was the RB47 closer than 30 miles from the Soviet coast.

Kuznetsov quoted the two surviving crewmen as saying they were instructed not to maintain radio communication with their base in Brize Norton, England.

"Since the RB47 did not communicate with its coordinates," he said, "the question arises as to the grounds on which the version was invented that this plane allegedly did not intrude inside the Soviet Union."

Chrysler Is Probing Its Officials

By BEN PHLEGAR

AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Board Chairman L. L. Colbert of Chrysler Corp. said today an investigation is continuing into outside business interest of officials of the automobile company.

The probe was disclosed suddenly Thursday with the announcement by the board of directors in New York that William O. Newberg had agreed to pay Chrysler more than $450,000 in profits made by him from interests in companies which sell to Chrysler.

Newberg quit as Chrysler president June 30 after holding the job only 64 days. At that time it was said only that there were differences of opinion on matters of corporate policy.

Various reports circulated in Detroit regarding the reasons, but both Chrysler and Newberg remained absolutely mum until Thursday's announcement.

Thursday night, when Colbert returned to Detroit, he told newsmen the investigation will be continued by the company's general counsel, the New York law firm of Kelley, Drye, Newhall & Maginnes, along with independent auditors.

He was asked if other Chrysler officials were involved.

"I know of no one at this time," he said. "Let's not get into that."

Three months ago at the Chrysler annual stockholders' meeting, Colbert, then president of the company, said "I would like it understood that I do not own nor have I ever owned any interest, stock or otherwise, in any of our vendors."

Neither did any of his family, he said, and to his knowledge neither did any of other officers or directors of Chrysler.

Chrysler and Newberg refused to identify any of the suppliers involved. Newberg, through an attorney, issued a statement saying he saw nothing wrong with his dealings, but he refused to say what the dealings were.

Boy Scouts in National Jamboree

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Band music sifted across the camp ground, and aerial bombs exploded today as 51 flags were raised high over the sprawling site of the National Jamboree of the Boy Scouts of America.

The flags represented each of the 50 states, plus the red, white and blue flag of the nation complete with 50 stars.

The flag-raising ceremony, with thousands of Boy Scouts watching from the hillsides dotting the 2,400-acre camp site, officially opened the fifth jamboree for 56,078 scouts.

The music, played by the 120-member Central Indiana Council Band of Indianapolis, was indicative of the period in which various states joined the union. Flags of the original 13 states were the first to flutter over the vast camp area, located north of here in the shadows of Pike's Peak.

United Evangelical Action, official organ of the National Assn. of Evangelicals, said that just as God's grace had molded Saul's "determined heart," it could "do the same thing for Khrushchev."

"The man whose nation has spread communism through a third of the world's population could be used of God to teach Christianity instead of communism and to exalt Christ instead of Marx," the article said.

The NAE is a cooperative body of Evangelical Protestant churches with about 10 million members.

In an accompanying symposium, several churchmen also urged prayer for the Communist leader. Some said sufficient prayer would either reform him or destroy him.

"Khrushchev must yield to Christ or be hurled from his despotic pinnacle if we will but pray," said the Rev. Arthur L. Bray, president of the Illinois Conference of the Wesleyan Methodist Church.

Amin R. Gesswein, chairman of the NAE's spiritual life commission, said that "it is right and God-pleasing to pray for Mr. Khrushchev," just as for other world leaders.

Idea Was Fine Until Russia Took a Leap

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was like drawing a circle around a frog and telling him not to jump out of it. This is what the United States did with Russia. And it worked, too, until the frog jumped.

And that's what put America in its latest dilemma.

Back in 1947, when George F. Kennan was head of the State Department's policy planning staff, he outlined an American plan followed ever since. As he said, it meant "holding the line and hoping for the best."

The idea was to ring Russia—then infinitely weaker than the United States—with military bases and alliances to keep it from pushing or overrunning her neighbors.

At that time, 13 years ago, the Soviet Union had no hydrogen bomb, no missiles, and Red China didn't exist. The mainland was still being run by Chiang Kai-shek, the American ally. But Kennan was doing some wishful thinking.

1. That this containment policy—military encirclement—would not only keep the Russians behind their own frontiers but would put internal pressure on the Soviet government.

2. That the pressure might hasten Soviet collapse internally or at least force a change of direction or intent because Kennan felt and wrote, Russia contained within itself the seeds of its own destruction.

Up till now the containment policy has kept the Russians from bulldozing their immediate neighbors. But, contrary to Kennan's hopes, instead of collapse the Soviet Union's internal development has been phenomenal.

Now, 13 years later, the Russians have the hydrogen bomb, missiles probably capable of hitting America, an industrial production second only to that of the United States, and a population apparently content and loyal.

Russian strength has increased so tremendously that only this week New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said the balance of power has shifted to the Soviet Union. The Russians have been acting as if they believed that, too.

They still can't, without risking war, push directly against the American circle drawn around them. So they have done the obvious and next-best thing for them. They have leaptfrogged out of the circle.

They have done it not only by the usual propaganda and intrigue but by promises of both economic but, even military, help to countries on the American side of the circle. This is the most glaring example: the economic deals with Prime Minister Fidel Castro's Cuba and a warning to the United States to keep hands off. Thus the Russians, without resorting to war to smash the circle, have hopped over and are trying to set up shop in America's backyard.

This almost certainly is only the beginning of such efforts to penetrate, by one means or another, the Latin American world. And Russia's efforts to penetrate Africa will be even more barefaced.

The American government can hardly dissuade the Russians from encroaching in areas close to the United States by complaining this is our backyard.

The Russians can answer by pointing out that for years the United States has linked itself to the Soviets' next-door neighbors with economic and military help and even military alliances.

For example: If the Russians send troops into Africa at the request of the Congo government, they can remind the world that the United States sent troops into the Middle East at the request of the government of Lebanon.

There would be a difference, of course. There were no United Nations troops already in Lebanon to keep order as there are now in the Congo.

And the worst is yet to come. Mainland China, now in Red Chinese hands, in a few years with Soviet help, should be militarily strong enough to inflict the misery on the American containment policy in the Far East.

Where does it all lead? Some guesses can be made.

The United States will need new ideas in dealing with the Communist world. Kennan himself a couple of years ago was shifting around the idea of a pullback in Europe.

This country will probably, in some fashion, have to make revisions in its containment policy and develop new programs to keep the rest of the world neutral or out of Communist hands.

Red Diplomat Expelled By U. S. as Spy

By LEWIS GULIC K

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. S. officials today saw the newest Soviet spy case as further evidence of the Kremlin conducting widespread espionage while professing peace and accusing the West of aggressive acts.

The expulsion of Peter V. Ezhov for spying, announced Friday, was the 12th of a Soviet diplomat from the United States in 10 years.

Authorities said the expulsion was ordered after thorough evidence was collected against Ezhov, rather than being deliberately timed as a counterpunch to Moscow's propaganda on the downed American U2 and RB47 reconnaissance planes.

They did not expect the Soviets to retaliate by booting out an American diplomat, although Moscow has expelled seven U. S. Embassy personnel on spy charges in the past decade.

Ezhov, like another Soviet diplomat since expelled, was reportedly undertaking his undercover activities in part during the time when Premier Nikita Khrushchev visited the United States last September as an honor guest.

The State Department said Ezhov, 39, a Soviet Embassy third secretary, was engaged for months in getting aerial photographs of American cities and defense installations.

The department gave this account in saying Ezhov, a press aide, "flagrantly abused his diplomatic status by engaging in espionage."

Belgians Told Again to Leave Congo

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U. N. Security Council today made its second demand in nine days that Belgium troops get out of the Congo and give way to the new U. N. military force. The Soviet Union dropped an attempt to set a three-day deadline for the pullout.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov joined in a unanimous vote for a Ceylonese-Tunisian resolution that called on Belgium to withdraw its forces speedily from the new African republic.

The resolution backed up the Council resolution of July 14 sending the U. N. force to the chaotic central African nation and calling for the Belgian withdrawal.

The new resolution also asked U. N. members not to "undermine the territorial integrity" of the Congo, whose rich Katanga Province has declared its secession with Belgian connivance, the Congolese government and the Russians charge.

Belgian Foreign Minister Pierre Wigny repeated his government's earlier assurance that the Belgian troops would be withdrawn "as soon as the United Nations can ensure order and safety." He pointed out that a phased withdrawal from Leopoldville, the Congo capital, had started.

Wigny said the unity of the Congo was consecrated by Belgian law and that Belgium, since setting the Congo free July 1, had not intervened in its former territory's internal affairs beyond providing technical assistance.

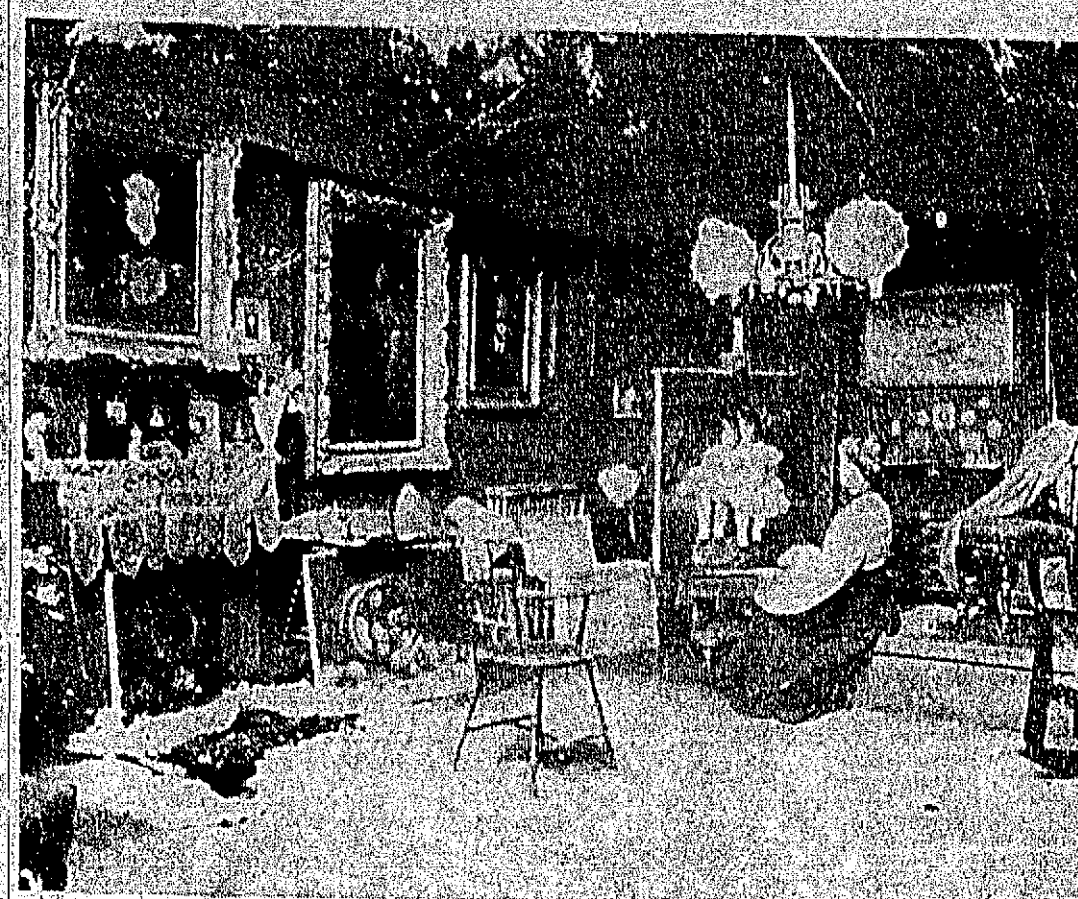

"It is for the Congolese to decide their own fate," he declared. Government circles in Brussels indicated the Belgian government still planned to pull the troops back to Belgium's two military bases in the Congo—Kitona and Kamina—and not pull them out of the country. These sources said the resolution did not call for total withdrawal from the Congo and pointed out it did not mention the bases, which Belgium retained under a friendship and assistance treaty she signed with the new Congo government when independence was granted.

In the debate before the Council, Soviet deputy Foreign Minister Vasily V. Kuznetsov told U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge that his government would not be bullied into backing down on Premier Nikita Khrushchev's promise to give the Congo any help necessary to stop what Moscow terms aggression.

Lodge in reply repeated his earlier statement to the Council that in the United States would do whatever it must to bar any troops from the Congo that the U. N. had not asked in.

"That statement still stands," he warned.

Washington Native Was Painter

By MARY ANITA LASETER

Do you read the "Masters" in a newspaper column? (The little facts used in complete a printed column when the article or story isn't quite long enough.)

A few months ago I read such a "filler" which stated "One of the first women to gain a national reputation as a painter was Jenny Delany Rice-Meyrowitz born in 1886 at Washington, Hempstead County."

Who was the lady in question? Her brother is A. P. Delany, who lives on N. McTear in Hope, and one of her paintings, "Southern Gentleman," has been on display at the Old Tavern in historical Washington. Several of her notable portraits of great historical value grace the Governor's Room at the state capitol in Little Rock.

For instance, in the state capitol are portraits of Jefferson Davis, Bishop Pierce of Arkansas, Ex-governors George W. Donaghey and Thomas C. McTear, and Mrs. Samuel Preston Davis, all painted by this Arkansas artist. She used either live models or photographs for her subjects.

She painted a portrait of Mrs. Jefferson Davis for the Confederate Museum in Richmond, Va., and her brush also captured the likenesses of such personalities as George G. Williams, President of the Chemical National Bank, New York; Mrs. Hetty Green, Dr. George Taylor Stewart, Spencer Trask, and William Sherer.

Following extended studies in Europe, Mrs. Meyrowitz's miniatures received much favorable criticism from many authorities. Her study of Queen Victoria is probably the best of her work in this class. Two nieces, Mrs. S. H. Smith of Hope and Miss Margaret Delany of El Dorado, have delicately beautiful miniatures painted by this artist of her mother, her father, and of herself, each painted on ivory. Though extremely tiny, these pictures are complete in every detail.

She had her first art pupils in her home town when she was only 15 years of age, and many of her pupils were mature men and women. She was the oldest daughter in a family of five children. Miss Delany was a student at various art schools at home and abroad. She was an art instructor herself in Little Rock; in Virginia Institute, Roanoke, Va.; at Norfolk College; and at the University of Arkansas.

Though her first husband, N. J. Rice of Denver Colo., died two years after their marriage, she continued to use Rice as her professional name even after her marriage 19 years later to Paul A. Meyrowitz of New York.

The picture accompanying this article was taken of the artist in her studio at 110 West 57th Street in New York, where she lived and worked for nearly 40 years. Well-known and well-liked by those she met everywhere, she nevertheless came back to her home state of Arkansas in her later years and was residing in Little Rock at the time of her death in 1949.

She was a member of Episcopal Church, the D. A. R., the U. D. C., and the American Artists Association. Her name has appeared in such publications as "Who's Who in America," "Who's Who in New York," "Who's Who in Who Art," "Dictionary of Painters," and "American Women."

Has't Heard Report of Military Move

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP) — A White House spokesman said today he had not heard of a report that Russia and East Germany may be preparing a "military move" against West Berlin within 30 days.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty denied that the subject was discussed by President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Christian A. Herter at a conference here this week.

Asked about the report, Hagerty said it was the first he heard of the reported "military move." He added:

"If the rest of the story is as inaccurate as the report this was a principal topic discussed by the President and Herter, then the whole thing is completely cockeyed. There was no such discussion."

In Washington, the State Department said it has received no intelligence report on such a Russian and East German move.

Secretary Herter also said through his press office that he did not discuss any such threat with Eisenhower at Newport Tuesday.

Wants Rocky as Vice President

CHICAGO (AP) — The chairman of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee said today that New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller should be "contacted and encouraged" to accept the GOP nomination for vice president.

Rep. William Miller of New York told a news conference he would favor a plan to have a special committee call on Rockefeller to urge him to reverse his stand against taking second place on the ticket.

Miller also said at a news conference:

"Up to 20 of the 96 New York delegates will vote for Nixon on the first ballot, regardless of whether Rockefeller's name is put before the delegates."

An all-out effort will be made to regain the 44 House seats the Republicans lost in 1958, Miller blamed the loss on apathy while Democrats were waging a strong campaign.

Premier Of Congolese Seeks Aid

By MILTON BESSER

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Premier Patrice Lumumba today is seeking aid for the Congo as the Communists and Western business interests race to get a foothold in developing the new nation's economy.

While shopping around for American capital and more technical aid, Lumumba is also expected to review the explosive military situation in the Congo, with United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld.

Hammarskjöld canceled plans to leave Sunday for the Congo where the U.N. has been functioning in a police force and announced he would remain in New York to see Lumumba.

Lumumba has been busy bolstering his nation's economy but its political status remained dangerously unsettled.

Before leaving Leopoldville, Lumumba signed a 50-year agreement with an American financier to develop his country's mineral and power resources worth an estimated two billion dollars. He also got bids from the Soviet Union and Communist East Germany to help build his nation's economy.

The Premier had two thorny problems to review with Hammarskjöld: withdrawal of Belgian forces from the Congo and the future of the rich Katanga province. The Katanga Assembly has proclaimed itself an independent republic, but the Lumumba government refuses to recognize the secession.

Violence flared Friday near a Katanga mining center as Belgian airborne troops fought Congolese militiamen. A Belgian spokesman said about 16 Congolese and two Belgians were killed and many wounded.

The U.N. is faced with a problem of its own over interpretation of two Security Council resolutions calling for removal of Belgian forces.

Both Hammarskjöld and the Council have been speaking in Continued on Page Six

Prayer for Red Premier Urged Today

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Prayer for Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev was urged today by an interdenominational publication and several church leaders. They said the same thing could happen to him that happened to Saul of Tarsus.

Saul, the violent persecutor of early Christians, was converted on the road to Damascus and became the great missionary apostle, Paul.

MOUNTAIN HOME, Ark. (AP) —

An industrial committee spokesman said today that job applications will be taken at Collier Monday and Tuesday for a proposed shirt factory in Arkansas.

The Capital Shirt Corp. of New York is planning the factory and the Baxter-Marion County area is one of three under consideration.

Tom Tinnon of Mountain Home, chairman of the Twin Lakes Industrial Development Committee, said Donald Cooper of New York City, president of Capital Shirt, would fly here Sunday and remain for the job registration.

Cave City near Batesville also is under consideration and job applications are being received there now. Registration started at Cave
City yesterday and more than 700 women applied. Registration continued today.

A third possible Arkansas site for the proposed factory is in the De Queen area.

Capital Shirt has said the planned new facility eventually would employ some 1,500 persons, mainly women.

The registrations are being carried out to determine available labor supplies.

Both at Cave City and Collier, applications from 3,000 women between the ages of 16 and 35 have been requested.

Tinnon, an attorney, said Cooper told him by telephone that a decision had not been made yet on the plant site.

The committee which Tinnon heads covers Baxter and Marion counties.

Collier, about 12 miles southwest of here, is in Baxter County but on the Marion County line.

The knocker has been handed the late Massachusetts sena-

The gavel was made of oak

Fall Fashion for Women to Be Gala

By JOY MILLER

NEW YORK (AP)—If fall doesn't turn out to be one gay ball after another, many a New York fashion designer is going to be mighty disappointed.

Predicting the most dressed-up season in the last couple of decades, they've brought back the long evening dress in all its glory. Small fortunes have been invested in lavish, imported fabrics to give it a proper welcome.

Samuel Winston is one who is pinning his hopes on more formal partying. His collection, designed by Roxane, was shown Thursday to visiting fashion editors in the fourth afternoon of press week. It was literally dazzling.

Roxane, who recently won a fashion award for her glittering gowns, spared neither bend nor sequin. As climax of the showing came a series of long evening gowns in exclusive, soufflé-lame brocades and silk damasks and evening coats, solidly encrusted with jeweled embroidery or smothered in furs like albino fox.

Their brilliance and $2,000 price tags, roughly, took the play away from excellent Roxane clothes shown earlier: coat costumes of dress or two-piece suit with coat princess silhouettes; coat dresses.

Another with firm faith that formality will win out this fall was David E. Gottlieb. His current collection for Galtie sparkled with full-length gowns, both dinner and ball, in metallics and jeweled embroideries. Some had slight court trains.

If these gentlemen and their purist beliefs prevail, the days of the good little dress that would take you from 5 p.m. to midnight are numbered. There's no getting around it. You will have to rush home from the cocktail party, to change to a dinner dress and then later fly back to switch to the more elegant evening gown.

Girl Can't Forget Boy Who Fathered Her Child

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen Worden Erskine:

I am 20 years old. Three months ago I had a child. I love the baby's father but the only thing I can't forget is the boy who fathered her child. I call myself. He seems to care for the child and says he cares for me but he never comes unless I ask him. I wish we could be married. I don't want to pursue him in court for support. I love him too much to face him on these counts. Is there anything I could do or say that might make him understand how much I love him and that his child deserves a real father? —Very Much in Love

Dear Very Much in Love: Stop looking up this irresponsible, immature human being who fathered your child. If he had any conscience he would call you. One thing is sure, you'll never get him back by playing the neglected sweetheart. Legally, he is responsible for the baby's support. But, if you don't care to press charges in court, go your way and insist that he go his. Show some spunk. If only for your baby's sake.

Dear Helen Worden Erskine: A year ago I married a man with two children. It has been very difficult but now fulfilling. I am 20 and hope to have a baby of my own. But my husband was quite at odds with the world a few months ago when I thought I was pregnant. He wants me to go to work this coming fall. We aren't rich but we don't really need money. I'm staying at our very own home. Your twenty-month-old baby is a good patient. He walking proof of his skill in helping others to help themselves.

Dear Helen Worden Erskine: I am desperate. Sixteen months ago my husband passed away. Since then I've been under a doctor's care from shock. Now I find myself in love with my doctor. He doesn't know how I feel. I want happiness again. If I can't have him I don't feel like going on. I don't know if I was falling in love with him until it was too late. He isn't married. Don't tell me to see a psychiatrist for he is one. Shall I let him know I love him? —Desperate

Dear Desperate: If he is your psychiatrist, he's probably already aware of your love. The worst way to gain his love is by

New TV Comic Now a Producer

By JAMES BACON

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—One of television's new comics, Bill (My Name Is Jose Jimenez) Dana, gets promoted to producer next month.

Dana was the spurious but hilarious welchback with Steve Allen's stock company last season. Dana, a genuine funnyman, got lots of laughs by just announcing his name in the plaintive style of a Mexican poem.

Much of his comic forte was transposing the J's and I's of a la Espanol. For instance, he described Israel as a country where "the Jewish people speak a brew."

The Allen show is no more but Dana, once a top comedy writer, will mastermind the new Spike Jones TV show. He will recreate Jose Jimenez for Spike.

"I am happy to say that the boss likes him," says Jose of all the producer.

Dana has an album out of his spots of the Allen show. It proves that a genuine funnyman needs no clever lines to get laughs.

The spots, in chronological order, show that Dana got guffaws at the start of the season by saying "My name is Jose Jimenez."

By midseason, the yokes came by the time he got to "my name —"

At the windup, laughs came the minute the audience saw his face. It's a type of comedy reminiscent of Joe (Wanna Buy a Duck) Penner.

Dana, a Hungarian from Quincy, Mass., got the idea for Jose in Puerto Rico, not Mexico.

"I met a nice chap down there who told me he was the Dutch representative. I asked: 'Are you a consul general for the Netherlands?'"

"No," he answered. "I am the Dutch representative." I kept pressing him about the Netherlands. Finally, he threw up his arms.

"I am the Dutch representative. You know, Dutch, Chrysler and Plymouth."

Stripper Jailed in Nude Overnight

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Judge Rodney Weiss said Thursday it was "reprehensible and barbaric" to jail stripper Clarise Amjell overnight in the nude.

He dismissed charges of performing a lewd act, resisting arrest and disturbing the peace, filed against the dancer. The city will appeal.

Clarise, 27, was dragged away screaming and kicking from her night club act by three detectives Wednesday night.

The detectives carried her off the paddy wagon clad only in a feather here and there and handcuffs.

At the station house a matron took the costume for evidence. Then Clarise, wearing only spike heeled shoes, was clapped into a cell.

Clarise refused to accept her street clothing from a matron. But 12 hours later, faced with the prospect of wearing a baggy, white smock into court, she finally accepted her clothes and dressed.

TO ALL THE PEOPLE OF HEMPSTEAD COUNTY:

When elected your Sheriff and Collector, let me emphasize that I will be the servant of All the People of this County, and hereby pledge that I will co-operate fully with each and every Community in our County. Further, I will listen attentively to each problem brought to me by any person or group of persons and assist them in every way possible in solving their personal or community problems.

It is my understanding that some communities in our county have fruitlessly requested appointment of local men as Active Deputy Sheriff in order that their homes and businesses be better protected. Let me say, that I feel the necessity of having a sufficient number of Deputies throughout the county to provide adequate protection of the lives and property of our citizens and, when elected, I will strive to secure appropriation by the Quorum Court for this purpose.

I further pledge that I will appoint a Deputy in Every Community for which there is an appropriation and such appointment will be filled by a man Acceptable to the Community Involved.

What Has Happened During Faubus' 3rd Term In Arkansas ???

- ☒ BOMBINGS!
—which came from the Faubus philosophy of government—let gas hurried into School Board Meetings Bombing of City, School and private property; bombs and dynamiting as recent as July 12, 1960, 2 weeks ago!
- ☒ MOBS-RIOTS!
—by the same source... and let us not forget the mobs and riots that marched on Central High on August 12, 1959!
- ☒ VIOLENCE!
—the sit-in demonstrations, trials, jail sentences!
- ☒ SCANDALS!
—open gambling, open bars now and with a million dollar Casino in Hot Springs now under construction by administration friends.
- ☒ HIGHER TAXES!
—sales tax raised, income tax raised, other tax rates planned.
- ☒ POPULATION LOSS!
—One-half million fewer Arkansans today than normal growth means higher taxes for those of us left. 2 Congressional seats lost! Census reports 140,000 lost!
- ☒ SLUSH FUNDS!
—of welfare clients, state employees, business people to contribute to slush funds for political campaign, reported to exceed $500,000.00.
- ☒ STOCK SWINDLES!
—many millions of dollars lost in worthless securities approved by administration... unscrupulous stock salesman took poor folks life savings in exchange for stocks and bonds.
- ☒ HUMILIATIONS!
—meddling with Medical School; closed public schools; interference with local city and county governments.
- ☒ NATIONAL DISGRACE!
—first arrests by FBI under Civil Rights Act of 1960 in Little Rock on July 12, 1960; first agitation to cause use of U. S. Troops; Arkansas now ranks 49th & 50th in all comparisons of education, economy, per capita wealth, progress.
- ☒ BAD PUBLICITY!
—no other state in the nation has had the bold black headlines that Arkansas has had: Arkansas called "Trouble Spot Of The Nation."
- ☒ STIFLED INDUSTRY!
—the only southern state not to get a share of the relocated northern plants despite the Faubus claims.
- ☒ ELECTION SCANDALS!
—4th term would bring only more of the same, and perhaps worse.
- ☒ NO Presidential VOTE!
Guess who will prevent YOU from voting for next President of the U. S. in November. (Answer—Faubus)

These Are The Facts:

The whole South is now paying the penalty. Against this background of strife, dissension, disorder and criminal violence, the South's enemies have been able to do this year:

1. To induce Congress to pass the most stringent anti-South legislation since reconstruction and
2. To incorporate in the Democratic National Convention Platform, an anti-South plank that the South's friends had blocked in 1956 and in many prior conventions.

NO 4th TERM!

The time has come to rid Arkansas of Faubus and the things he stands for, and to return peace and dignity to our fine state. Be sure and VOTE! VOTE FOR ANYBODY BUT FAUBUS!

Girl Scouts to End Training

WASHINGTON (AP) — Delegates to the 14th annual American Legion Girls Nation wind up a week-long program of citizenship training today with a visit to the White House and graduation ceremonies.
Tomorrow the girls tour historic sites here and in nearby Virginia, including Mount Vernon.
Earlier in the week, the delegates, and especially the Girls Nation Supreme Court justices, were greeted by Justice Hugo L. Black when they visited the Supreme Court. Members of the Girls Nation mock Supreme Court include Kathleen Raff, West Helena, Ark.

Toll Ferry Has Stopped Operating

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Highway director F. R. Oliver says a toll ferry at Sylamore in Izard County has stopped operating.
Oliver said yesterday that two men who own a half interest in the ferry have asked to talk with him Monday.
He said he was told the ferry, one of five across White River between Cotter and Batesville, had quit running.
The owners didn't give further details, he said.
Oliver said a bridge is needed in that area. A delegation which asked the Highway Commission about a year ago for a bridge was told that it would cost $1,000,000 and probably wouldn't be programmed for construction this year or next.

Continuation of Wheat Quotas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wheat farmers, faced with record surpluses on hand and prospects of another bumper wheat yield this year, voted overwhelmingly for continuation of marketing quotas and acreage controls for the 1961 crop in yesterday's referendum.
The complete vote from the 39 commercial wheat states was 148-766 for continuation of the program to 21,631 against, or a favorable vote of 87.3 per cent. A two-thirds favorable vote was necessary for approval.
Only 161 of Arkansas, some 800 eligible farmers voted. Seven opposed quotas and controls; 154 favored them.

Los Angeles to Get Third Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Flanagan, president of Feature Sports Inc., said today that Los Angeles would be the site of the third Floyd Patterson-Johansson heavyweight title bout with Nov. 1 as the probable date.
Flanagan said he would leave for Sweden next Tuesday to confer with Johansson and complete arrangements.
Patterson, who won the title in 1956, was knocked out by Johansson in the third round of their first meeting a year ago but regained the title by flattening the Swede in the fifth round of their return bout last month.

Japs Satisfied With Trade Plan

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's new Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda said today he is satisfied with American trade policy toward Japan.
Ikeda also ruled out any immediate new parliamentary elections in Japan and denied any intention of seeking revisions of the controversial U. S.-Japanese security treaty, two things demanded by the left-wing demonstrators who forced the resignation of his predecessor, Nobusuke Kishi.

The bespectacled conservative Ikeda, who took office last week at a news conference, expressed his deep regret for the violence which led to the cancellation of President Eisenhower's visit in June.

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President Eisenhower will inspect a Polaris submarine, the Patrick Henry, at the Newport Naval Base Monday afternoon.
The big boat is a sister ship of the George Washington, from which the first Polaris missiles to be fired from a submerged sub were launched Wednesday off Cape Canaveral, Fla.

To Inspect Sub

For the first nine months of 1959, unemployment in Arkansas went down 27 percent below the first nine months of 1958.

Red Ship Stops American Vessel

NEW YORK (AP) — The skipper of an American freighter reported that an armed Soviet patrol vessel stopped his ship July 7 in the North Pacific about 350 miles from the Soviet Kurile Islands.
The incident, disclosed Thursday, was termed by admiralty lawyers a violation of international law.
The ship involved was the Ocean Eya, a 10,700-ton cargo carrier from Portland, Ore., to Manila.

Skipper Tells of Ship Accident

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — A destroyer skipper says he was traveling at 20 knots in a fog when another destroyer loomed suddenly ahead of him.
The two collided and 11 sailors died.

Cmdr. Albert Ford, acknowledged at a naval court of inquiry Thursday that even under ideal conditions it would take 500 yards to stop his ship, the USS Callahan.
Ford said the Callahan was on test speed runs when it collided with the USS Ammen off the Southern California coast.
Radarmen couldn't give any reason why the Ammen wasn't sighted earlier, but pointed out that equipment was new and in stalled and crews weren't used to it yet.

Young President

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP) — Arend D. Lubbers, 28, graduate student at Rutgers University, has advanced fast.
He'll be a college president next month.
Lubbers will take over as president of Central College in Pella, Iowa, a coeducational liberal arts school with 450 students. Central officials said Lubbers would be the youngest head of an accredited American college.

Favors GOPs

CINCINNATI (AP) — One son of the late Democratic President Franklin D. Roosevelt says Frankly he's going to support the Republican party this year.
James Roosevelt, now a New York investment banker, said Thursday night, "I'm convinced Vice President Nixon has the best training and the greatest ability of anyone in this country for the job as president."

For the first nine months of 1959, unemployment in Arkansas went down 27 percent below the first nine months of 1958.

IF A

WRONG?

Atop The World

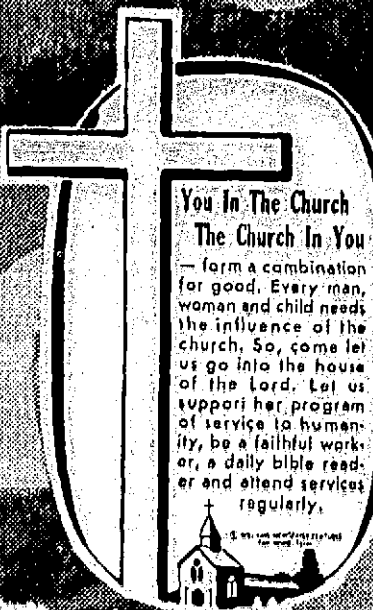

...and riding high. Nice clothes, a good job, social eminence, a sizable bank account. Yes, and even membership in a church.

But just how high does he ride? How secure is life with him? Will it endure or will it be like the chaff which the wind drives away? Examine yourself. Do you worship your possessions or God? Do you glorify yourself or honor Him?

Do you take credit for your successes or count them as God's blessings? Unless you possess an abiding faith in God and confess that all good things come from Him... you are riding for the fall of your life. Truly, now, are you "atop the world?"

Better stop. Better think. Better make the necessary adjustments. See you in church.

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

Rockefeller Worries Over the Platform

CHICAGO (AP) - Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's office reported today he is "deeply concerned" over reports that Republican platform writers have come up with draft planks which he calls "seriously lacking in strength and specifics."

The statement of the New York governor's views was given out by his press secretary, Robert L. McManus, as subcommittee members of the platform committee settled down to putting party declarations on paper. The platform is to be approved by the party's national convention next Wednesday night.

The statement said Rockefeller, who is very available for the GOP presidential nomination but not an avowed candidate, has been in close touch with all platform developments through a special staff in Chicago.

Rockefeller also has been in direct communication with Charles Percy, chairman of the platform committee, McManus said.

He added that Rockefeller is "keenly appreciative" that Percy "has been doing his patient and utmost best in a job made difficult by clear conflict of views."

This was a possible reference to divergence between the viewpoints of Rockefeller and the apparently sure-GOP nominee, Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Department Store Sales in Gain

ST. LOUIS (AP) - The Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis reports that department store sales in the Eighth Federal Reserve District the week ended July 16 were three per cent better than those in the corresponding period last year.

Sales in Memphis slipped one per cent. Louisville registered a three per cent decline. But St. Louis and Little Rock were both up six per cent and sales in seven smaller district cities rose one per cent.

Sales for the four weeks ended July 16 were one per cent above those of the similar four weeks of 1959 and sales to date were at the same level of last year.

Posthumous Award for Two Arkansans

PITTSBURGH (AP) - The Carnegie Hero Fund Commission has cited two Arkansans boys, one posthumously, for their actions in saving a third youth from drowning.

Bronze medals were awarded yesterday to Odell H. Wortham, 13, of Parkin, Ark., and to the mother of Walter Edward Holmes, 12, Holmes died in the rescue effort. His mother is Lillie Mae Holmes of Tomato, Mississippi County, Ark.

The citations said Holmes went to the aid of Joe E. Duckett, 15, a Negro, last Aug. 2. The Duckett boy, dragged, Holmes under the citations said, Wortham pulled the boy to safety.

The commission presented a total of 20 such medals for heroic acts.

Because of a Bath

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) - Stephen West, 9, didn't want to take a bath Thursday night. He hid behind the tub.

His mother, Hazel West, said Stephen became stuck between the tub and the wall.

It took firemen, using portable jacks, several minutes to free him.

Edhov paid a commercial photographer to take pictures of selected sites from a private plane. While under FBI surveillance, he gave the man more than a thousand dollars.

He also paid for flying lessons for the photographer and hinted the Soviets would buy him a plane so he could carry out further aerial reconnaissance.

Photos included pictures of U.S. Navy installations and what the department called "other intelligence targets," said to be mostly along the East Coast.

Officials declined to identify the flying photographer by name or nationality or say what action, if any, would be taken against him.

The Judge Will Pay

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) - Charged with speeding 40 miles an hour in a 30-mile zone, Mrs. Maxine Kimball pleaded guilty Thursday.

Magistrate William F. Kimball, her husband, reached into his pocket and paid the 10-dollar fine.

"All she would do," he remarked later, "is to take it out of the grocery money anyway."

The unhappy caravans of Indians followed the "Trail of Tears" through Arkansas in the 1830's.

Will Encourage the Egg Eaters

MEMPHIS (AP) - Egg men who attended the American Poultry Congress and Exposition are confident they can encourage people to eat eggs as fast as hens produce them.

The 4,000 delegates at the organization's annual convention heard a number of speakers give their ideas yesterday on how to fight a big slump in egg consumption.

Most of the speakers at the closing session of the convention dwelt on the problem of an egg surplus.

They said the average egg consumption of each American dropped from a high of 400 about 12 years ago to only 340 last year.

The speakers had answers to the problem. Their proposals ranged from more modern barnyards to more colorful advertising and better merchandising.

Some of the products discussed were hen tranquilizers, frozen french toast, eggog in dispensing machines and eggs in foil wrappers for cooking in the toaster.

See Backing of All Senators

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Lt. Gov. Nathan Gordon of Morrilton in his first television appearance in the 1960 campaign, said he thought "all the members of the Senate are supporting me in this race."

The lieutenant governor's chief duty is to preside over the state Senate.

Gordon, seeking his eighth consecutive term, has opposition in the Democratic primary for the first time since 1950. His opponent is LeRoy Hickman, a Little Rock insurance man.

In a five-minute speech last night, Gordon said he thought few could match his knowledge of the office.

Racial Rioting in S. Carolina

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP) - Whites and Negroes threw punches Thursday in a melee that followed lunch counter demonstrations in two downtown Greenville stores.

Three white youths were arrested, charged with disorderly conduct, and released under $30 bonds.

They were identified as Bobby Sims and Dean Willis, both 17, and Dennis Nevis, 26.

Nevis also was charged with carrying an illegal weapon, a knife, and posted an additional $30 bond.

The fight began after Negroes had staged sit-ins at the S. H. Kress and the W. T. Grant stores.

Wilbur and Orville Wright, who built the first successful airplane, earned their first pocket money by making kites for boyhood pals.

CHAPTER XXIV

Artemus extricated his car and drove leisurely to Scottsdale road. Then through crowded Scottsdale village and northward to the might well be. It was obvious his Roche residence. He did not want presence had not been anticipated to be inopportunist early, nor did he want to miss any moments of the party.

Already there was the mitey slender lawyer, Marvin Leeds, there was a feline self-confidence about the man as he advanced toward the fringes of the gathering. His eyes flicked brightly here and there, missing nothing. They lighted upon Artemus, and he raised carefully trimmed brows. He veered a trifle to pass the to him. He admittly work's the Secret Service man and said soft-cult out of the middle. "Not, she ly. 'Getting up in the world eh?' said, 'that I'm a calf.' 'I thought you kept track of me.' 'You don't know me,' Leeds replied.

"No chance," she said gaily. "I was surprised," he told her, "to see Marvin Leeds here." "Never," she answered with a grimace, "be surprised at any guest you find on these premises. I believe Mr. Leeds is looking after some legal business for father."

"Indeed!" Artemus exclaimed. Her eyes danced as she looked beyond him. "If you think Mr. Leeds is an odd guest, just cast your eye on what's trampling down the grass now!"

Ambling across the lawn from the parking space like a pair of contented hippopotamuses came Louis and Jason Baffin, keeping step ponderously, teeth like dominoes showing through broad and happy smiles.

"Now where," Jack asked, "did father dig up all that luggage?" "I suppose," said Artemus wryly, "that he has heard of the results of lightning matches in a powder magazine."

"The behemoths of Holy Writ are bearing down upon us," Jack said, "beaming like a pair of you?"

"They're aware of me," Artemus said, and turned as Jason Baffin spoke to him inclusively. "Ah, Mr. Baffin!" He exclaimed, "delighted. My brother and I are delighted."

"Miss Roche," Artemus said solemnly, "may I present the Baffin brothers?"

They bowed in unison.

The Baffin brothers waddled away in search of Mr. Roche. Jack looked forwardly into Artemus' eyes. "Why ever," she asked, "did father dredge up those deep-sea monsters?" She drew her shoulders together.

Artemus found himself separated from Jack, and he worked his way through the press, hoping for a word with Mr. Roche.

Mr. Roche was moving toward the refreshment table, and Artemus intercepted him. The professor looked up at him with a sort of contented slyness.

"I hope," he said, "that you are not one of those benighted persons who enjoy cocktail parties."

"This one," Artemus replied, "has been interesting."

"Know what a catalyst is? It's a thing that draws other things together, after a manner of speaking. Could be you're a catalyst. Like you say, there's some characters here tonight. I've kind isolated one phenomenon. There's just one person here that each in every one of those characters has talked to. It's you."

"With," said Artemus, "one exception."

"You wouldn't exactly, precisely or logically expect Walker Bay side to come fawning on you after you smacked him on the button."

"And what, sir, do you deduce from all this?"

"All I do is provide the puzzle for you to fish in." He changed the subject abruptly. "They got some mighty fine colleges up in Canada. I was up there to one of them, bewilderin' the undergraduate mind with a lecture not long ago. Got caught passin' a bogus $10 bill. The authorities let me keep it as a souvenir."

Pomfret Lionel had detected a counterfeit $10 bill in his father's possession. The Canadian authorities had found a bogus note in his possession. One such bill might be an accident; two such bills were an extraordinary coincidence.

"But, sir," Artemus said, "the Canadian authorities would not permit a private citizen of the United States to retain such a counterfeit—even as a souvenir."

"You got no idea how persuasive I can be?"

"Is that note still in your possession?" Artemus asked.

Mr. Roche's hand sought the pocket of Artemus' jacket stealthily. He grinned impishly at the Secret Service man. "It was up till now," he said. "Now take

GOPs Buckle Down, Work on Platform

By OVID A. MARTIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Republicans buckle down today to the job of putting on paper a platform they hope will contribute to a party victory in November.

Leaders predicted the document will have little "meatiness"—a tag given some past GOP platforms by critics who contended the Republicans aped the Democrats in social welfare promises.

Certainly the platform will differ dramatically from that adopted by Democrats at Los Angeles last week if it reflects the predominant tone of those who made recommendations this week.

The platform will go to the convention Wednesday for adoption. Most of the 200-odd persons who testified before the 100-member Platform Committee during the last three days called for a halt to injecting the federal government into the economic and social welfare life of the nation.

The Democratic platform, on the other hand, pledged to expand federal activities in these fields.

In writing the platform, the GOP drafters will give much weight to the wishes of Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the party's all-but-certain presidential nominee. Nixon has been keeping in close touch with leaders of the Platform Committee.

There is one area in which the Republicans may find themselves called upon to broaden federal activity. That is the controversial issue of racial discrimination in voting, education, housing and other spheres of human relations.

Civil rights advocates urged the Republicans to come up with as bold a civil rights plank as the Democrats. The latter promised to widen federal authority to intervene in the courts to help end racial discrimination in many fields. The plank evoked bitter opposition of Southern delegates.

Here, as at the Democratic convention, Dixie delegates pleaded for moderation. But there was no threat of a walkout by Southerners. Instead there was a promise that a modest plank would encourage many Southern Democrats to shift to the GOP.

Nixon Plans Extensive Campaign

By JACK BELL

CHICAGO (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon plans the most intensive and widespread campaigning ever undertaken by a presidential candidate.

That was the word today from Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, one of Nixon's top advisers, as maneuvering over the vice presidential nomination turned up opposition from the left wing of the party to the possible choice of Henry Cabot Lodge.

Although Scott told a news conference he didn't find any "general feeling" among supporters of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft against Lodge, strong opposition to the U. N. ambassador was reported by others.

Scott said that if Nixon wins the party's top nomination at next week's convention as expected, the vice president will not begin his "ceaseless" campaigning until mid-September. This would be two weeks after Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Democratic presidential nominee, takes off for Hawaii and Alaska and returns for a Labor Day speech in Detroit.

In the meantime, Scott said, Nixon will make some major speeches in appearances being arranged for August and early September.

Reporters peppered Scott with questions about the possibility that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York might be induced to take second place on the ticket.

Scott classed Rockefeller as potentially a "very fine candidate." He said the governor will have to decide for himself if there is any moral obligation to take the second place nomination if the convention makes it clear it wants him.

The Pennsylvania senator said a study of utterances by Nixon and Rockefeller indicates to him that they are not very far apart in their views.

But he said that in addition to Rockefeller there are plenty of good running mates available for Nixon. He named Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, the GOP national chairman, and Lodge, among others.

RE-ELECT

ORVAL E. FAUBUS
GOVERNOR OF ARKANSAS

Pol. Adv. Paid for by Sen. Clarence E. Bell

TO THE VOTERS OF HEMPSTEAD COUNTY

I know my Dad better than Mr. Garrett and I assure you that he has NO political ties with any one man or any political group.

His desire is to serve YOU the people of Hempstead County.

VOTE FOR

ORIE BYERS
For Hempstead County Judge

Pol. Adv. Paid for by Raymond Byers

Who Is Trying To Dictate To The People Of Hempstead County?

The County Judge, in an advertisement appearing over his name in the Hope Star, under date of July 21, 1960, charges me with active participation in the contest between him and Orie Byers for the Democratic nomination for County Judge.

I am somewhat surprised at his charges and, in reply, wish to say that the only part I have played in this contest is the exercise of my right, as a citizen, to support the candidate of my choice.

The good people of Hope and Hempstead County have been exceedingly kind to me and I have business enough in my chosen profession, as a lawyer, to keep me busy without attempting to dictate the policies of any candidate or any department of Government, for which I am sincerely grateful.

I do not think I have talked to a half dozen people about the County Judge's race. However, I have no hesitancy in saying I expect to vote for Orie Byers, not that I have anything personally against Mr. Garrett; I expect to vote for Byers because I do not believe in keeping one man in office indefinitely. I believe the custom of two (2) terms should be adhered to. The present County Judge has had four (4) terms and now seeks a fifth. I, also, believe there should be some changes in the method of handling the affairs of Hempstead County. The County has grown and, as I understand, now collects and spends nearly a HALF MILLION DOLLARS each year in administering the affairs of Government. I do not believe that Judge Garrett, nor any other man, should handle this much money without letting the taxpayers of the County know from what sources the County receives it and for what it is spent. In other words, I believe that the people should be kept informed, at all times, as to all matters pertaining to the County Government.

The Judge says that I "if I could, would control every officeholder from Justice of the Peace to Governor." He is very much in error with respect to this charge. I have no desire to control or try to control the officers of Hempstead County, but I could tell you, the good people of Hempstead County, who does have such desire and who is trying to do just that, and I have reference to none other than the present County Judge.

I have heard it rumored that he became offended because the present Sheriff would not let him dictate the policies of his office and "cut off" and refused to allow him certain expenses for the management of his office, which he allowed, and the County paid, for the Sheriff preceeding Mr. Griffin. Moreover, I understand he solicited various candidates to run against Mr. Griffin for Sheriff.

It is also, rumored, and charged by the present Tax Assessor that he endeavored to run his office and, because he could not, he disallowed a claim for one of the deputies in the Tax Assessor's office, after the Attorney General of the State had advised the Tax Assessor that he had authority to employ the person who rendered the services.

Rumors have it that he solicited and was possibly instrumental in getting Mr. Lawrence May, who was, as his appointee, a member of the Equalization Board with respect to the tax assessments for 1959, in the race for Tax Assessor.

It is, also, charged that he tries to run the County Clerk's office. The County Clerk is the bookkeeper for the county. He should know and record all transactions pertaining to the affairs of the county. I don't know why the County Judge should be so interested in handling this particular part of the County's business which the people have elected the County Clerk to handle. Moreover, it is charged that calls coming in over the telephone in the County Clerk's office can not be answered by either the Clerk or his deputy; that all calls coming over said telephone must be answered by the judge's secretary or the judge, if either of them are in their office.

I have, also, heard it rumored that when the Judge passes on a claim, instead of having the County Clerk write up the record, showing the disposition of the claim, he handles it by himself until such time as he gets ready to have it recorded. I have heard it stated that he reduces tax assessments whenever it suits him and orders the Collector to reduce the assessment without making any record in the records kept by the County Clerk.

Mr. Garrett says that he has "secured our full share of  commodities for the needy." The people would like to know, Mr. Garrett, if the cries of the hungry children and the aged, decrepit and disabled men and women, during the years of 1955, 1957 and 1959 did not appeal to you and why you, the only official who could get free food commodities for them, passed up those years and let food commodities go to waste in government warehouses that these people could have had if you had only asked for it. COULD IT BE, MR. GARRETT, THAT YOU ARE ONLY MOVED TO SYMPATHY ON ELECTION YEARS?

There are many other rumors about which the people are fully aware as to Mr. Garrett's desire and efforts to dictate the policies of the entire affairs of Hempstead County.

The truth of the matter is, Mr. Garrett has finally seen the handwriting on the wall and, not being able to interpret it, has gone to his lawyer to have it interpreted and his lawyer has read it to him. His report to Mr. Garrett, of the meaning, is "THOU ART WEIGHED IN THE BALANCES AND FOUND WANTING. THE PEOPLE OF HEMPSTEAD COUNTY ARE AGAINST ELECTING A MAN TO A FIFTH TERM. YOU HAVE DRAWN MORE THAN $36,000.00 OF THE TAXPAYER'S MONEY DURING YOUR TENURE IN OFFICE AND WE ARE ELECTING ORIE BYERS TO TAKE YOUR PLACE."

THIS HAS DISTURBED MR. GARRETT UNTIL HE DOES NOT KNOW WHICH WAY TO TURN.

You, Mr. and Mrs. Voter, be the judge as to who is trying to control the office-holders of Hempstead County.
